Fáilte ón gCathaoirleach

Tá áthas an domhain orm fáilte a ghabhail do gach éinne go dtí Páirc de Búrca. Táim cinnte go raibh briseadh maith agaibh.

The weather maybe chilly but the companionship is warm as for the second year, the Dublin Camogie and Ladies Football Boards combine to host the OZO Dub Stars games.

The event has taken another step forward and we can safely say that even at this early stage, the event has secured a place on the annual calendar of events.

What a wonderful year the Ladies Football Board has had and we congratulate them heartily on their inaugural senior All-Ireland success.

Camogie also made progress with a Leinster Under 16 title and hopefully it won't be too long more before the county can add to its record 26 All-Ireland senior successes.

The OZO Dub Stars is but another example of the close working relationship between the Boards. Integration of the Associations has been debated over recent years but in Dublin it would be true to say that the reality is that in partnership with the GAA all of the gaelic games family in the county has been operating for some time along those lines. The model makes sense and in the years to come I feel it will become the norm throughout the country.

Another year will be upon us in three days time. There is a lot of uncertainty in the country at the present but the gaelic games family will lead the way. When you are involved in a voluntary body, there are no guarantees of funds, resources, facilities but there is always an abundance of passion, hope and commitment and at the end of the day this is what sustains us.

Both Maureen and I would like to thank all our supporters, players, mentors and sponsors as we look forward to another great year in 2011.

Friends in Sport

On behalf of Dublin Ladies Gaelic Football, I would like to extend a warm welcome to you all for our 'Ozo Dub Stars' game.

In spite of the cold weather, after the great success of last years inaugural 'Dub Stars', we are delighted that we both decided to run this again & hope it will continue for years to come.

Days like this demonstrate the willingness and efforts of both Associations to work together for the betterment of both sports. In 2011 we will continue to work together behind the scenes to ensure we listen to our members and keep our discussions ongoing.

I would like to thank our sponsors Ozo for coming on board this year, we are very grateful for their support.

I would like to wish all the organisers, management teams, officials and our players a great day of sport & one that you will take away fond memories of.

May I wish you all a very Happy, Healthy & Sporting 2011.

Yours in Sport.

A BIG CEAD MÍLE FÁILTE FROM OZO

OZO 24/7 Collect & Recycle are delighted to be associated with the Dublin All-Stars combining Camogie and ladies Football and recognising the contribution both make to sport in the Capital.

Congratulations to the Footballers on winning the All-Ireland this year making 2010 a year to remember for them. We wish them the best in the coming year and we hope they can do it all again.

While Dublin lead the roll of honour with 26 Camogie All Irelands they haven't won it since 1984 but the 40 girls representing the All Stars and the Dublin team here today are determined to put Dublin Camogie back on top. We look forward to much success in the OZO Jersey.

OZO was unveiled during the year as the new sponsor of Dublin Camogie. OZO Collect & Recycle is a Dublin company and it is Leinster's leading independent waste & recycling company.

We firmly believe in the importance of supporting sporting activities at a local level and hope that our involvement with Camogie will see greater development and improvement of that game throughout the county.

OZO is also a proud sponsor of the Leinster Rugby team and we have enjoyed a lot of success with Leinster over the past couple of Seasons.

A big challenge for Camogie and Football in Dublin is to retain teenage players and to support their transition from underage to adult Camogie. The challenges for OZO are quite similar, retain existing customers and grow our market share by working closely with sport and local communities.

OZO is committed to supporting all Camogie and GAA clubs by lowering their waste costs and increasing the amount of recycling.

OZO provides customised waste management solutions for apartment blocks, commercial establishments, Sports Clubs, industrial and institutional properties in the Greater Dublin area and the surrounding counties of Wicklow, Kildare, Meath, Cavan, Louth and Monaghan.

OZO is also in the Domestic Household bin sector.

A big welcome to all the players – young and not so young, Mums & Dads and all the supporters. Thanks to Kilmacud Crokes for the use of their superb facilities and thanks to both County Boards for organizing a fantastic event.

We wish everyone a healthy and successful New Year and thanks for supporting OZO.

Gerry McGill

- Mastermind of Dublin's All-Ireland Ladies Football win

Dublin Ladies footballers quest for back to back TG4 All Ireland Ladies All Ireland titles in 2011 will have to be planned without the services of Gerry Mc Gill and his management team who in early November 2010 announced their decision to step down. DECLAN DRAKE spoke to the Donegal native about his tenure in charge and what the future holds for the county and for him.

The Donegal native was appointed the ladies manager on November 24th 2006. It was an appointment which ended a period of tremendous uncertainty and upheaval in the county which had lost its way after the period of 2002-2004 inclusive which had yielded a hatrick of Leinster Titles and those couple of ill fated All Ireland Final appearances. Dublin were to operate in Division 2 of the Suzuki National League as it was known then in Mc Gills first year in charge of the team. Ultimately it was to prove a successful campaign as the title was annexed with victory over Wexford at Semple Stadium in Thurles. 16 months later Dublin were to start on another 3 in a row Provincial Championship run that was in July 2008. What happened though in the quarter final against Tyrone on the rain sodden Dr Hyde Park pitch in terms of the heavyness of the defeat created many questions again over the direction of the team and Gerry Mc Gills continuing involvement as he admits

" I remember speaking to you after that as the rain pelted down on the roof over our heads in Roscommon. We had suffered a real hiding at the hands of Tyrone and things looked really bleak. I had my wedding to Siobhan(an integral part of the backroom staff) coming up the following year aswell as that considering what happened there were major questions about everything we had done as a unit in the game. Naturally enough everybody was really down, a meeting with 2 of the senior players Denise Masterson and Niamh Mc Evoy really made up our minds about the future. It was agreed that we shouldn't and couldn't end on such a note as the Tyrone game. We had so much more to offer and to prove as group so we decided to stay"

2009 saw the traumatic experience of the previous year laid to rest as the team went all the way to the All Ireland final which ended in an agonising defeat to Cork. It was to prove an experience that ultimately 12 months later helped carve out the triumph everybody desperately craved and deserved. The ever pragmatic and realistic Mc Gill agrees that experience however unpalatable at the time was important in 2010

"That was the ultimate heartbreak against Cork that goes without saying. The best team lost that final there is no doubt in my mind about that, that may sound strange to hear but it is the truth. We just lacked that wee bit of craft and a lack of a killer instinct on the day. You have to hand it to Cork they used all the experience to the best of their ability. Coming into this year it was clear what was required and the sense of determination to achieve it was huge"

2010 didn't start so well with relegation to Division 2 of the League, as we well know by now that was all pretty much forgotten on a bright September day at Croke Park as years of hurt frustration and being second best were washed away in style. The special performance of Sinead Aherne that day will never be forgotten by those present to witness it, her manager was especially pleased for the St Sylvester's lady

" Sinead with her penalty miss blamed herself for the loss in 09 against Cork which was so unfair on herself. What a way 12 months later to show once again how special a talent she really is. Big players play on big days and thats what Sinead did against Tyrone. Everybody was fantastic all year in their application and attitude, these girls put their lives on hold for this I am so happy that at last they got their reward. They really are a special group of girls and it has been pleasure to have worked with them"

He has no regrets about retirement. Like high profile hurling managers Donal O' Grady and Liam Sheedy in recent times Gerry Mc Gill has bowed out of being the Bainisteoir after watching his side claim the ultimate prize the sport of ladies gaelic football can offer. You get the sense that although he is going to be still involved in the game at college level the Mc Gill brand of management may be back at a higher level in the future. The boy from Donegal who once invited his local parish priest to watch a Celtic Rangers soccer game in his house has certainly done his adopted county proud. In turn the favour was returned at the O'Neill's sponsored awards night when Dublin ladies football honoured him with the special recognition award.

Denis Murphy

- Camogie boss making no promises

DENIS MURPHY arrived at the OZO launch of today's occasion. He didn't have to.

He was coming from Skerries. Dublin was in the middle of the icy grip.

Indeed, the Stillorgan car park that night would have tested the balance of Torvill and Dean. Or Even Bruce Forsyth.

But Denis was there. And as Brucie might say, it was nice to see you, to see you, nice.

Due to the weather, he didn't ask any of his squad to be present.

But he was prepared to take the long road himself when an acceptable excuse was only a phone-call away.

But, as they have always said, it's by their deeds that you know a person.

On his appointment, Denis didn't start posting messages on Youtube promising the sun, moon and free copies of the Star.

He made no promises at all. Only the commitment that Dublin would work hard and that they'd cover the hard yards.

Just like his journey to Kilmacud earlier this month. Yet, as the song goes, sometimes you say it best when you say nothing at all.

By putting in the miles, and the hours, Dublin will be a fitter, shaper outfit this term.

Fitness carries so many advantages. Your opponents might be more skilful and possess better guile, but a fit side can make life harder for them.

Deny them time on the ball, be first to the breaking sliotar, and generally be able to contain them as much as possible.

If you are about to step out into the ring for the 15th round, you are going to feel more assured if you have spent the previous few months on the hills.

As the great Mick Dowling says, your training should be so demanding that the fight should be the easy part.

Mick was one of our greatest ever boxers. He loves hurling too. He's from Kilkenny.

Denis also has a deep pedigree. He'd cherish nothing more than to see Dublin win back the Ashes.

But he'd be the last person to predict that it's going to happen someday soon.

Yet things can only get better with the two wise men, and the All-Ireland winner.

Denis is joined by David Needham and Ann Colgan, a Dublin hero of 1984, the last time the O'Duffy Cup sailed down the Liffey.

Ann is from Cork. Her heart is in Dublin. There's reasons to be cheerful.

The underage structure is better than ever. It will power Dublin's camogie cottage industry for years to come.

The Dublin Senior Championship got a make-over. The Regional team was welcomed.

It was another initiative. You can't fault effort. And it was the same with the seniors last summer.

They didn't win a match in the All-Ireland Championship, but there was honesty there. Every day they faced a mountain.

These winter months will be all about filling the oil tank. The wall-paper can come later.

Denis Murphy is the chief pilot. The game is in safe hands.

Camogie folk would be thrilled to see the Dublin Revolution take off.

But such lofty ambition cuts no ice with the manager.

The only thing he can guarantee is that himself, Ann, David and the squad will give it their all.

And there's no better starting point than that.

Dublin Ladies Win 2010

One year on and lots to report since last year's "DUB STARS" event. Records have been broken and trophies won.

This year 58 Dublin Clubs entered 275 teams into competitions along with several mini-panels of Under 10s and for the first time Under 9s. The 'Faoi Naoi' Under 9 programme followed on from the sense of co-operation evident between both Camogie and Ladies Football County Boards and was played on alternate weekends between the codes.

In Under 14s, our Féile weekend in April was a terrific success. 33 teams took part – over 700 girls participated.

Seven grades of Adult Championship were contested with Ballyboden St Enda's capturing the Senior title in Football and Camogie. Dublin is indeed to the fore in the "One Club" model.

There are no less than six Inter County trophies in the Dublin Ladies cabinet this year. The Dublin Under 14s took home the Leinster Cup and missed out on the All Ireland by a single point. The Under 16s did us proud in both Leinster and the All Ireland. Last Year's Dub Star manager, Angie McNally took the helm with the Senior "B" squad and collected the Aisling McGing Cup for the first time. This was Dublin Ladies first Senior All Ireland trophy. With the Senior Leinster Cup safely put away, Gerry McGill's Senior side were lifted by the success of the "B" squad and a week later took the pitch at Croke Park by storm. It was a storm as every ball was won, correctly placed and scores notched up. It was a master class of Ladies Gaelic Football. The result was the arrival in Dublin of the Brendan Martin Cup. Three "All Irelands" out of five!

Dublin Ladies Football is 25 years old this year, in May to be exact, and we marked the date in style in one of the three founding Clubs - Robert Emmets' Club. We finished the year in style with our Annual Awards night in Croke Park where we marked our achievements starting a year ago today.

So here's to the start of next year and the next 25 to come!
